

NOT A TRUE PICTURE SAYS FORREST

A complaint made in the Selectmen's meeting Monday night is not the complete story, says Eddie Forrest, Chairman of the Wilmington Housing Authority.

Mr Forrest was referring to an incident in which Henry Munroe of 120 Faulkner Avenue told the Selectmen that there were irregularities in the sale of the Veteran's homes on Wildwood Street.

'Judging on the basis of a story appearing in a daily newspaper' Forrest said Wednesday, 'Mr Monroe did not give a true or complete picture of the entire situation. I would like to say that Mr Monroe's complaint came after a fair hearing of his case, at the last meeting of the Wilmington Housing Authority. A full and further statement will be issued by the entire board at a later date.'

Mr Munroe told the Selectmen that he had received a notice of eviction from his landlord because the home in which he lived had been sold, and that he sought to purchase a home in the Veteran's project, and was unable to, while at the same time a home was sold to a Wakefield resident.

'I am getting pushed around' Munroe told the Selectmen.

Munroe told the Selectmen that he realized they were not in charge but that he wanted to tell them the story, in case he went to the State Housing Board, so that he could report to that board that he had already taken up the problem with local authorities.

He went to the Housing Authority at the time he received his eviction notice, he said, and found the acting Chairman to be very co-operative. Another member of the WHA, Munroe said, had said to wait until the Housing Authority found out if there were to be any houses for sale. All the members read the eviction notice.

After the WHA had advertised in the paper that the houses were for sale he went again, and told them he was a veteran in need of housing and that he had come to Wilmington in 1938.

Munroe reported that he was told that he was told that the WHA had to interview all the applicants, and that 'that was ok with me'.

They sent me a letter for an interview. I went to two meetings but didn't go the third time, and then I found out the houses were sold, Munroe told the Selectmen.

In one of the meetings he had had an executive meeting with the WHA and at this time he had asked the 'newest' member of the board if he (Monroe) was being considered. Munroe told the Selectmen that the answer was 'Yes'.

Allie Epstein and Robert P. Sumberg have been chosen as co-chairman of the fund raising committee. Mr. Epstein, a member of the Chamber, is President of Louie's Oil Service, and is very active in civic affairs. Mr. Sumberg is President of the Chamber, a resident of Reading, and a Vice President of Avco's Research and Advanced Development Division located in Wilmington.

Sumberg pointed out that this is a civic project intended to reduce the cost of local government, and that the Chamber believes that it should be supported by every business and resident of Wilmington, since the ultimate gain will be reflected in a lower real estate tax.

The top estimate, for financing of the new Town Hall is $250,000, Sumberg said.

The method of financing is to consist of the formation of a non-profit corporation, whose stock will be sold with the guarantee that the stock will be redeemed over a ten year period.

The proceeds from the sale of stock will be used to purchase

THE KIDS VOTE WITH THEIR FEET

Back in the days when the Glen Road School was being built the Town Fathers did a little thinking about how to prevent accidents to the children, on their way to the new school.

The Planning Board gave the problem a little serious study, and recommended that Garden Ave. be completed from King Street to the new school which meant going through the woods for a distance of a couple of hundred feet.

The Board of Selectmen were in the middle of their period of lofty super knowledge, and decided that the best way was to have Glen Road reconstructed under the provisions of Chapter 90. They, figuratively speaking, tossed the Planning Board idea out of the window.

So Glen Road was surveyed, and the Selectmen were dismayed to have the residents of that road oppose the idea 100%. Not 99%, but 100%.

For the survey showed that at the very best a dozen or more homes would lose front steps, front porches, front rooms, etc. Naturally the people didn't like this.

The suggestion was made to the Selectmen in the public hearing that followed that perhaps the town could restrict traffic on the section of Glen Road between Miller Street and Harnden Street, so as to discourage "through" traffic.

But this wasn't in accord with the Selectmen's ideas. They wanted the street to be Chapter 90 or nothing.

And that's where it is today. The Planning Board ideas are still outside the window, the suggestions of the neighbors have not had any attention paid to them, and Selectman De Felice has been heard on one or two occasions in the Selectmen's Meetings, to mutter about the fact that the people of Glen Road don't want Chapter 90.

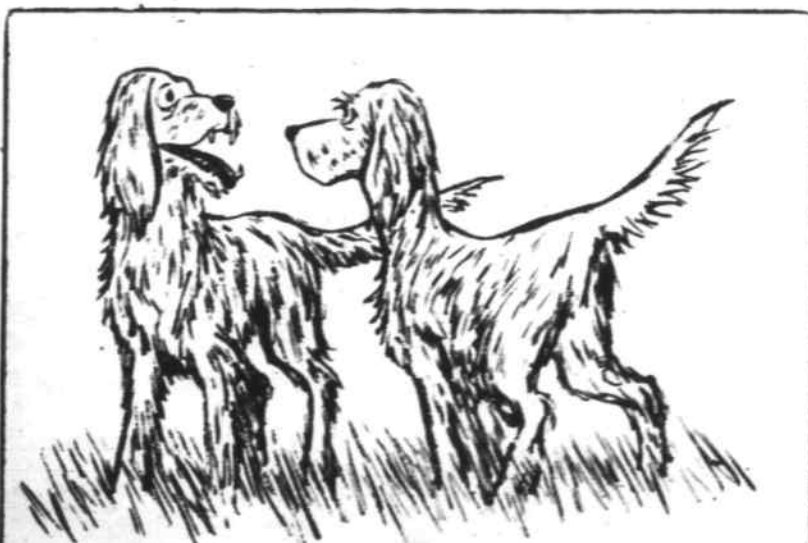

But the kids of the neighborhood, who know nothing of all this, have given their own answer.

They have voted with their feet. From the end of Garden Avenue to the new school there is now a well beaten path.

Perhaps when those kids grow up they too will be on the Planning Board.

vial things which loom up to trap unwary people at a most unpleasant moment. It would seem that the sale of one of the houses on Wildwood St. by the Housing Authority is going to be decided on technicalities.

The Housing Authority sold the house to a Wilmington man, resident of this town for many years, and a member of a well known and well respected Wilmington family.

Now the Board of Selectmen have been told that this person was a resident of Wakefield at the time the sale was made, and the Housing Authority is on the spot.

There is no doubt but the person did live in Wakefield. He was unable to rent in Wilmington. But other Wilmington people have lived in Wakefield for years, and retained their Wilmington residence at the same time.

So it looks as though the Wilmington Housing Authority will have to become very technical and go into the fine details of the law before arriving at its ultimate judgement.

And no matter what happens, someone is going to be hurt.

THE B&M AND ITS BRIDGES

Some of our older residents may remember the hassles which the Board of Selectmen have had with the Boston & Maine Railroad, about bridges in Wilmington which span that railroad's tracks.

The Shawsheen Avenue bridge was closed for months, a few years back, while the Selectmen argued over the responsibility for maintenance with the railroad.

The Nichols Street bridge, too, was a subject for much discussion. Lately it has never been mentioned.

The railroad, with its decreased revenues, has been trying, vainly it would seem, to have the state and/or municipalities shoulder a part of the cost of bridge maintenance.

So Wilmington residents can get a chuckle over the latest argument into which the B&M has got over bridges.

It concerns the new $6 million plus bridge over Winchester Square, for which the railroad paid a considerable sum.

Pigeons, it seems, are roosting under the tracks, and pigeons have a nasty habit, from the viewpoint of mankind. The people of Winchester are up in arms about it.

It is safe to predict that there will be a long and possibly fruitless discussion between the railroad and the Winchester Town Fathers.

LWV ZONING STUDY

The Zoning Committee of the Wilmington League of Women Voters, which has been meeting weekly for the past two months, is studying the 'zoning needs of Wilmington in relation to the growth and needs of the town'.

The committee was formed last spring when the League adopted zoning as the local study item. This is the Wilmington Leagues first local item for study.

The committee intends to study all aspects of zoning and has gathered information from many available sources. This includes the practical experiences of other towns with problems similar to those of Wilmington, such as rezoning for industry, and planning for future land use.

Thus far the committee has mainly studied over-all planning and how to plan. They have reviewed the make-up of local planning boards, the different kinds of zoning (residential, commercial, industrial) and the importance of planning for recreation and open spaces.

The members of this committee have also started attending meetings of the Planning Board in order to observe first hand the problems in local planning and zoning.

VETERAN'S DAY EXERCISES

Veteran's Day, Nov. 11, 1963, is to be observed with joint exercises of the three Veteran's organizations of Wilmington.

A Memorial Plaque is to be dedicated at 9:30 am at Lubbers Brook, Main Street (Silver Lake) in memory of the men of Wilmington who have given their lives while serving at sea, in defense of their country.

The Wonderful High School Band will take part in the exercises to be held at the Soldier's Memorial, at 11 am in the Wildwood Cemetery.

Commanders James Simpson, DAV; John Faulkner, VFW; and Ralph Zwicker, American Legion, have issued a joint appeal to the Veterans of Wilmington, that they should take a part in the exercises at one or both of the places.

BOLIVIAN VISITOR TO WILMINGTON

HAS SURPRISE VISITOR

Teresa Casal is a bi-lingual secretary, from Santa Cruz, Bolivia. She is living, for the next few weeks, at the home of Dr and Mrs Ernest MacDougall, on Mid-war, back in the 1930's. The city is of Colonial Spanish aspect, and is at an altitude of only 1500 feet, which is very low compared to the rest of Bolivia.

HOSTESS SALLY MACDOUGALL, With Miss Casal and her cousin Ramon Gutierrez dlesex Avenue - and for her it is the event of her life.

She arrived in Wilmington last Saturday - and Monday evening she got the surprise of her life when her cousin, Ramon Gutierrez, also of Santa Cruz, knocked on the front door of the MacDougall home. Ramon, 21 years old, is a student at Northeastern and Rensselaer Polytech, studying engineering. He did not know that Miss Casals was to live in Wilmington until he saw an item in one of the Boston papers Sunday.

Teresa, who is 19, didn't know she had a cousin in Boston - so the surprise was mutual.

It all began in a Rotary District Governors meeting in Lake Placid New York, a few months ago.

The present Rotary Governor of this district, Fred Lawson of Stoneham, engaged in a conversation with the Rotary Governor of Bolivia, a Dr. Boland. Fred suggested that perhaps the Rotarians of this area could be hosts to 10 Bolivian girls for six months - and the idea was taken up by Dr. Boland.

Teresa (and her cousin) come from a city of about 80,000 people, mostly Spanish, located in the southeast part of Bolivia - down near the Gran Chaco region over which Bolivia and Paraguay had a

She had six years of grammar school, three years of High School, and then three years in Our Lady of Lourdes Business College, run by some Canadian Roman Catholic Nuns.

To get to the United States, after she was chosen as one of the ten to go, she had to fly to LaPaz, Bolivia then to Lima Peru, and then to the US in a jet plane.

She is attending Wilmington High School for brief refresher courses in Speech, Shorthand, Business, and Office Practice, and then will go to work for Avco.

She was a visitor at the Rotary Club luncheon, yesterday.

Bob Sumberg, who is Vice President and Comptroller of Avco, and also Vice President of the Rotary Club of Wilmington, has made the arrangements for Teresa to work at Avco.

Teresa, incidentally, is one of ten who made the trip. Five of the girls are in the immediate area of Wilmington, and five in the area of Keene, N.H.

She thinks it is just wonderful, for a 19 year old girl - to go to Wilmington High School, and to work for Avco -- and just imagine, having your cousin walk in the front door, less than 48 hours after having arrived in Wilmington!

PAFEC MEETING: Last night, in the West School, the Wilmington group of the Parents and Friends of Exceptional Children.

CONSERVATION STUDY COMMITTEE PROGRESS

Selectman Rene LaRivee is making progress with his Conservation Commission in Wilmington. The Selectman has a committee of about a dozen persons, he told the Selectmen Monday night. His report was very brief, but received encouraging words from Chairman Charles Black.

The committee is to have its first meeting tonight, in the Town Hall.

It will be the first time in nearly a decade where a 'citizen's group' have been interested in Conservation, as opposed to vague and semi-secretive moves on the part of certain town officials.

Among the committee are several Civil Engineers, and other persons with abilities in other directions. Some of the members have not yet been publicly named by Mr LaRivee.

Those named include Lt. Commander Albert H Marfleet of Boutwell Street, Richard Woodbury, Roberts Road; Walter Dinteman, Woburn Street; Charles Fogg, CE, of Oakridge Circle (a former member of the Planning Board); William Hanna, Wing Road, and William Kavanaugh, CE of Adams Street.

The Committee will be working with Mr LaRivee and the Wilmington Planning Board, in planning a program of conservation, drainage of swampy areas, planting of trees in denuded areas, etc., to be presented to the annual Town Meeting next March.

The program will include, it is hoped, all the possible assistance from State agencies.

Mr LaRivee spent all day Tuesday in the State House in Boston discussing the problems of Conservation with various boards and commissions. He told the Town Crier that he found the state officials to be 'very co-operative'.

LaRivee hopes that, in the work of the committee, and of the Planning Board and himself, that suitable information and legislation will be ready for the annual Town Meeting of 1964.

At the present time Mr LaRivee is engaged in a search for a report issued in 1951, concerning a survey of the upper waters of the Ipswich River, made at a cost of $25,000. The information in that report, he believes, will be of tremendous value to the group which he is heading.

SCHOOL BUS BIDS

The Hudson Bus Company, former operators of the Wilmington Public School buses, was among the companies that bid, last night, for the 1964 contract for Wilmington School Bus transportation.

A second firm that bid was Napoleon J Paris of Tewksbury, operator of school buses for that town.

The Twombly Motor Coach service, present operator of the school buses was the third bidder.

All three firms promised that if they were to receive the bid, they would house their buses in Wilmington, so that the Town of Wilmington might be paid the Excise Taxes on the busses.

Hudson bid a sum of $23.75 per bus per day, on a one year basis, and $26 per bus per day on a three or five year basis. For trips, athletic or otherwise the firm bid 50¢ a mile, plus $2 for each hour of waiting.

In the event of Double Sessions Hudson bid on a basis of one-half more per bus per day.

Mr Paris bid $24.85, on a one year, three year or five year basis, 35¢ a mile for athletic trips and $2 an hour waiting time, with a minimum charge of $12. For Double Sessions he bid $32 a day, and for late buses he bid $15 a day.

The Twombly Motor Coach Lines, present holder of the contract, in its bid, reminded the School Board that in three years there had been no difficulties of any nature.

The bid price was $27.84 a day per bus, for a one, three or five year period, 50¢ a mile plus $2 an hour waiting time for athletic trips, $13.97 per bus per day in the event of Double Sessions, over the regular cost, $10 per bus per day for late buses, and 75¢ per bus per day for Civil Defense 'dispersal' i.e. leaving buses at the school yards to be available in cases of emergency.

Twombly was the only bus system that bid on all requested items.

The magic number last week was 118. Both Helen Smith and Joanne Bradley rolled this for a single, and that is good bowling. This helped to Joanne's joining the 300 Club, with a 316.

Another point of interest, which means a lot to some of the girls is the joining of the 100 Club. Josephine Carlson, Ann Visconte and Laura Pentz are the new members and they should be proud of their achievement.

Slis Dias is the new Vice President, and three new bowlers have been welcomed to the league: Flossie Silva, Jean Johnson and Marge Downey. Everyone is happy to see Peg Baker back again, with her bowling arm in good shape.

JON FAIRFIELD INVALIDED OUT OF TEAM

The football playing days of Capt Jon Fairfield, of the Wilmington High School 1963 Football Team are over, at least temporarily.

The 250 pounder, 6 foot six in height, has been ordered by his physician to stay off the field, at least for a while, and perhaps for the rest of the season.

Fairfield has had knee trouble since last summer, and twice this season has had injuries to his knee, first in the Burlington game and then in the game against Chelmsford. He is now suffering from a torn ligament.

Meanwhile QB Billy Ritchie is almost ready to resume play. The bandages around his left elbow were removed this week. Coach Fred Bellissimo is not certain as to whether or not Ritchie will be able to play in the North Reading game.

The North Reading Hornets, who play the Wilmington High School eleven, Saturday at 1:30 pm on the Wilmington field, have not had a win this year.

It's first game, with Wayland, was an 8-8 tie, and its second game with Bedford was a 0-0 tie.

Since then North Reading has lost to Westwood, 16-0, Weston 28-6, Marian 30-6, and, on Monday to Ashland 20-6.

The North Andover game, scheduled for last weekend was rained out. No. Andover is now scheduled to play on the Wilmington field on November 23rd - the Saturday before Thanksgiving.

TOWN HALL DRIVE (From Fr. Pg.)

pleted about February 1, 1964. The final decision to construct a new Town Hall must be made in a Town Meeting. The annual Town Meeting of Wilmington is held in March. The ability to finance the cost of construction in this new and unusual manner will no doubt have a profound effect on the Town Meeting.

A special meeting is to be held in the North Intermediate School on Salem Street, on Monday November 18th, for the purpose of explaining the method of financing and enlisting the help of all citizens interested in seeing this project through to a successful conclusion.

VETERAN'S HOMES (From Fr. Pg.)

Mr Monroe told the Selectmen that he had remarked that another person had been able to rent, and that he had been told by the Chairman that the transaction was a legal one.

Monroe further related that in the executive meeting with the Housing Authority members he had been asked to write a letter to the board 'which I did'.

Monroe was seeking to purchase one of the three bedroom homes of the Veteran's project, he told the Selectmen, and he said that Eddie Forrest, Chairman of the WHA had told him that there was only one house with three bedrooms that had not been purchased by the present tenants and 'we didn't consider you for purchase of the two bedroom homes'.

At the end of the executive meeting, according to Monroe, Forrest had told him (Monroe) that he had authority to find out if any of the tenants could not get a mortgage, and also to extend the time for mortgages to December first.

Monroe was told by Selectman Nicholas De Felice that the Selectmen had no responsibility in the matter, that the Housing Authority was an elected body, and that 'Personally I feel that we are remiss in listening to you'.

'You were notified to appear on a certain night after spending two nights there - you didn't go to the all important meeting' De Felice said.

Selectman Brooks told Monroe that his recourse was to go to the State Housing Board. It was at this time that Monroe made his statement about a person in Wakefield buying one of the homes. Monroe termed it 'A black eye for the town'.

GOLDEN AGE CLUB NEWS

Members of the Wilmington Golden Age Club have returned from a ride along the Mohawk Trail. The ride, by bus, had several stopovers, one on the bridge over the Connecticut River, where the members could enjoy the view of the deep river cut, and some of them walked up Tinkle Hill to do a little nature studying.

They stopped at the Hill View House for lunch and bought souvenirs, and the next stop was at Hairpin Turn, where people can look down into the valley, and see autos and houses that look like toys.

The bus went on to North Adams and then returned to Wilmington by a different route, arriving home at six pm with everyone tired but happy.

At the last meeting in October there was a birthday cake for the members who had birthdays in the month. Piano selections and vocal solos by Fred Doucette, who is 79 years young, and singing by Alice Smits and Martin Jilhuik of Lowell was a part of the entertainment.

The next meeting is to be at 1:30 pm today (Nov. 7th) in the Methodist Recreational Building. Everyone sixty or over is welcome. The club now has about 70 members, and enjoys having all the oldtimers at their get-togethers, which are held twice a month.
